Art Unit: 1654

1. The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:

It does not identify the city and either state or foreign country of residence of each inventor. The residence information may be provided on either on an application data sheet or supplemental oath or declaration.

The city of residence of inventors Ramaswamy and Rajagopalan is omitted from the declaration filed August 5, 2002.

2. Applicant has not complied with one or more conditions for receiving the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120 as follows:

An application in which the benefits of an earlier application are desired must contain a specific reference to the prior application(s) in the first sentence of the specification of in an application data sheet (37 CFR 1.78(a)(2) and (a)(5)). The specific reference to any prior nonprovisional application must include the relationship (i.e., continuation, divisional, or continuation-in-part) between the applications except when the reference is to a prior application of a CPA assigned the same application number.

After an acceptable claim for priority has been submitted, the examiner will forward the request for corrected filing receipt filed December 17, 2002 for action.

3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: There is no Brief Description of the Drawings as required by 37 CFR 1.74. At page 8, line 3, "amphiphilicity" is misspelled. At page 22, line 11, "patient" is misspelled. The status of the U.S. patent application cited at page 40, line 29, should be updated. Appropriate correction is required.

Art Unit: 1654

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 50-69 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 15-20 and 56-60 of U.S. Patent No.

6,309,633. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the '633 patent anticipate the instant claims.

7. Claims 50-63 and 65-68 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-67 of copending Application No. 09/873,899. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other. The '899 application claims insulin conjugated to a first polyethylene glycol moiety, which is conjugated through a hydrolyzable bond to a second polyethylene glycol moiety, which is conjugated to a lipophilic moiety. The polyethylene glycol moieties can have at least 2 polyethylene glycol subunits. The lipophilic moieties can be alkyl or fatty acid moieties. The conjugates are amphiphilically balanced so that each conjugate is aqueously soluble and able to penetrate biological membranes. The '899 application does not claim Applicants' specific H, H', and fatty acid moiety sizes. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to determine all operable and optimal H, H', and fatty acid moiety sizes for the claimed conjugates of the '899 application because the '899 application recites in its claims that PEG size is to be determined, because polymer size is an art-recognized result-effective variable which is routinely determined and optimized in the polymer and conjugate arts, and because it is necessary to determine and optimize H, H', and fatty acid moiety sizes in the claimed conjugates of the '899 application in order to amphiphilically balance the conjugates as is required in claim 28 of the '899 application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

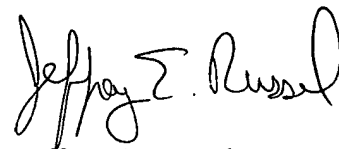

8. Ekwuribe (U.S. Patent No. 5,359,030, see especially column 13, Conjugates 1 and 2) is deemed to be the closest prior art of record; however, this reference, either alone or in combination with the other prior art of record, is not deemed to teach or suggest Applicants' claimed drug-oligomer conjugates in which a PEG polymer H is conjugated to a hydrophilic moiety H' through a hydrolyzable bond. Note that the Zalipsky et al article (Reference 70 of the Information Disclosure Statement filed September 9, 2002), page 349, first full paragraph, teaches that ether bonds are non-hydrolyzable, and accordingly none of the ether bonds present in Conjugates 1 and 2 of Ekwuribe satisfy Applicants' claimed requirements for a hydrolyzable H-H' bond. Regen (U.S. Patent No. 5,606,038) also does not teach or suggest the presence of a hydrolyzable H-H' bond in its conjugates, and does not teach or suggest conjugates comprising insulin.

9. Reference 99, crossed off of the Information Disclosure Statement filed February 3, 2003, was not considered because it is not in the English language and no concise explanation of its relevance was provided as required by 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3)(i).
